Discussion Questions: Why do we care about the right to organize a union and job security for workers in other part of the world when we don't have these rights here and we feel paralyzed to stop plant closing in our own community? How will responsible licensing of copy righted logos and sweat-free procurement policies help Pittsburghers build a civil rights bridge from PNC Park to the floor of the global sweatshops? What are the relationships between students and workers in Pittsburgh to workers in the sweatshops that sew our clothes? What are we going to do to move our common struggles forward today?

Black History Month Focus: Lessons from the Olympic struggle against apartheid and the 2004 Olympic sweatshop struggle. George Vashion's Civil Rights Bridge from Pittsburgh to Haiti. Lucinda Todd of Topeka, KS, the law, and the long road to equal education in America and the world. Workers struggle for jobs at Three Rivers Stadium and PNC Park, Heinz Field and the David Lawrence Convention Center.
