THANKS FOR BECOMING AN IWW DELEGATE!

Building the IWW

Delegates play a critical role in the IWW. As a delegate you collect union dues and maintain direct contact with current and prospective members. No one is better situated to encourage members to become active in the local group and in the union as a whole, and to talk to members about job conditions and organizing prospects.

The delegate is also an IWW organizer. As delegate you sign up new members and are generally their first contact with the organization. If you perform your duties conscientiously, find answers to questions members have, and encourage them to take an active part in building the IWW, this will result in an active and growing IWW presence.

Members become frustrated when delegates lose reports or sit on them for months because the result is that members receive nothing from the organization.

At-Large Delegates reporting to GHQ have to work extra hard, as they are often the only representatives of the IWW in their area. Their role often involves bringing members together, introducing them to the broader union, and beginning the process of building a group or branch.

Duties of Delegates

Duties include collecting dues, signing up new members, and submitting monthly activity reports to General Headquarters. Delegates are also responsible for maintaining records of union materials in their possession.

It is also important for delegates to keep copies of all their reports, and record when they report on their credentials card. In the case of a discrepancy or issue arising, the delegate can quickly clear it up with their records.
Credentials

Anyone who has been an IWW member for six months is eligible for delegate’s credentials, “except that newly organized groups may elect one of their members to serve in that capacity” (IWW Constitution, Art. IV, Sec. 1 b).

Credentials are generally valid through March 31st the year after they are issued. Credentials can be requested any time throughout the year by contacting General Headquarters, or, if you are in a branch, talk to your Branch Secretary.

The application for delegate credentials can be found at: iww.org/headquarters on the left hand side under “Delegates”

ELECTING A DELEGATE

If you are forming a new group in an area where there are already members, call a local meeting. At the meeting, elect a delegate or two and send a record of the meeting and a request for delegate’s credentials to General Headquarters. If you are in a workplace with other Wobblies, elect a delegate from your committee and ask that person to get in touch with General Headquarters.

If no other IWW members are in your locality you can apply directly to General Headquarters for credentials so that you can begin signing people up.

Chartered branches elect Branch Delegates according to Branch bylaws or, if no Branch bylaws exist, at a regular business meeting. The Branch Secretary then tells General Headquarters which of its members they have elected to be delegates. Branch Delegates report to the Branch Secretary and not directly to General Headquarters.

All new delegates must submit a Delegate Application to General Headquarters. If elected, the meeting minutes clearly stating their election should be included with the application. The application for delegate credentials can be found at: iww.org/headquarters on the left hand side under “Delegates”

IWW Branches

There are two kinds of branches in the IWW. General Membership Branches (GMB) and Industrial Union Branches (IUB) are both chartered by the General Executive Board (GEB). Once your local group reaches 10 or more members in good standing in a geographic area (GMB) or an industry (IUB), the members can begin the process of chartering a branch. More information on this process can be found at: iww.org/guides/branch/new

It’s a good idea to contact the GST for help navigating the process as you are getting ready to seek branch status.

In order to retain your Branch charter, you must have at least five members in good standing. In the event that the branch becomes defunct, it is the responsibility of the Branch Secretary or the delegate to make an accounting of the branch’s assets and return its charter and remaining funds to the General Secretary-Treasurer.

Delegate Supplies / “Rigging”

Delegates are sent membership materials including membership cards, dues stamps, copies of the IWW Constitution and other introductory publications. An inventory of supplies issued to you is kept by General Headquarters or your local branch, as these supplies remain the property of the IWW.

Additional supplies can be ordered from General Headquarters or your local branch. You are held responsible for the supplies given to you. If at some point you no longer wish to be a delegate, you’ll need to return supplies to General Headquarters or your local branch. You can transfer supplies to another delegate, but General Headquarters needs to be notified. Once your clearance has been processed, you will receive a new set of credentials and a clearance sticker (pictured above).

Each year, delegates are sent inventory clearance forms from General Headquarters. Whether or not you wish to continue to be a delegate, these forms should be filled out in order to remain in good standing.

Failure to clear your delegate credentials annually could result in the loss of voting privileges and the right to run for union office.

Members rely on delegates in order to pay their dues on time. Take your rigging along with you to monthly meetings and any gatherings which might attract new members. It is also important for you to make a monthly report to your local Branch or General Headquarters even if you have collected no dues. This helps the organization keep track of activity and makes sure members continue to receive union publications, etc. Even if you have not collected dues, filling out the activity report section will keep the membership, branch, and GHQ aware of your activities.
Initiation Fees & Dues

Be familiar with the current dues rates. Initiation into the IWW is always equal to one month’s dues.

Who can be a Wobbly?

Here’s Article II of the IWW Constitution. Please take a moment to read it:

ARTICLE II
Membership
Sec. 1
(a) It is the aim of the IWW to build world-wide working-class solidarity. The IWW therefore actively opposes bigotry and discrimination on and off the job. No wage or salaried worker shall be excluded from the IWW because of race, ethnicity, sex, nationality, creed, disability, or sexual orientation. Membership is open only to wage or salaried workers except as provided in Section 1(b), but can be denied to those workers whose employment is incompatible with the aims of this union.

b) No unemployed or retired worker, no working-class student, apprentice, homemaker, prisoner or unwaged volunteer on a project initiated by the IWW or any subordinate body thereof shall be excluded from membership on the grounds that s/he is not currently receiving wages. Such workers may take membership in the Industrial Union for the industry in which they last worked, or for which they are now training, or at which they work part-time, or in the case of students and homemakers in Educational Workers I.U. 620 or Household Service Workers I.U. 680 respectively as may seem most practical. This provision shall not deny to any Industrial Union or Industrial Union Branch the right to limit vote on strictly point-of-production matters. Workers employed in cooperatives democratically run by their employees are welcome to membership. Members who become temporarily self-employed may retain their membership or apply for withdrawal cards, which are issuable also to those who must withdraw when they become employers.

c) No member of the Industrial Workers of the World shall be an officer of a trade or craft union or political party.

Branches may allow IWW members to become officers of trade or craft unions as long as these exceptions are reported to the General Administration and no IWW member receives significant pay (more than dues rebate and expenses) as a result of being an officer or official in a union that does not call for abolition of the wage system.

Exceptions may be made by branches to allow unpaid officers of political parties to become members.

d) No Law Enforcement Officer (LEO), certified by the government to enforce the law, and no Prison Guard, whether employed by the government or a private company, shall be a member of the IWW, and any member who becomes such shall be expelled.

Sec. 2. All applicants shall agree to abide by the Constitution and regulations of the IWW and diligently study its principles and make themselves acquainted with its purpose. This obligation shall be printed on the application blank.

Sec. 3. Whenever members of the Industrial Workers of the World shall hold jobs in more than one industry, they may simultaneously be members of more than one Industrial Union or Industrial Union Branch with full rights to democratic participation in said bodies, provided that they are actual workers in said industries, and provided further that they pay all dues and assessments required by each Industrial Union or Industrial Union Branch of which they are members. Members who are simultaneously members of more than one Industrial Union or Industrial Union Branch shall have only one vote in General Organizational elections and referenda.

Signing Up New Members

Give the new member an application to fill out. Make sure the writing on the application is clear and easy to read. You will need to help the member determine which Industrial Union they belong in. There is a list of Industrial Unions in the back of this booklet and in the back of the IWW Constitution.

Go over the dues rates which are printed on the back of the application. Let the member know that there is an initiation fee equal to one month’s dues. Ask them how many months of dues they’d like to pay for.

You will need to fill out the shaded area at the bottom of the application. Make sure that the membership number you write on the application matches the number on the membership card. This is how GHQ will initiate the new membership in our records.

Attach all completed membership applications to your Delegate Report Form, and make sure to turn them in with the report which has their dues on them. If a report with a new member and no application is received, GHQ does not have any of that member’s contact information and cannot process the membership.

New members are given a twelve-month membership card. Fill out the panel with the member’s name, your name, the date, the industrial union number, the industrial union department, and the member’s occupation.

Write the beginning date and the ending date for the twelve-month membership card at the top of the “Monthly Dues” section. If you sign up a new member in April, their card will contain their dues records through the month of March in the next year.

A new member always receives: a membership card, an IWW button, a current IWW Constitution, and the ‘One Big Union’ pamphlet. Consider making up a new member’s packet with information about the local IWW branch (if you belong to a branch) contacts, copies of IWW publications and local newsletters.
How to collect dues

When a member pays dues or buys assessment stamps, you are responsible for placing the stamps in the member’s card.

First write the date and your delegate number in the member’s card.

Your delegate number should be on the top and the date the dues were paid should be on the bottom. (See image left)

If you are using a one-year-card (like in the example above), begin filling in the card with the first square on the “Monthly Dues” grid.

Then paste in the stamp(s) and repeat the information on the face of the stamp(s). (See image left)

This is the member’s record of when and to whom dues were paid, it serves as a “receipt” and in instances where a delegate report is unavailable to confirm their standing, it is the final say. If their stamps come off, they still have a record of their dues written clearly underneath them.

Enter the dues payment immediately on your delegate report form.

If a member has a twelve-month membership card, check that the beginning date and the ending date for the twelve-month membership card are filled in at the top of the Monthly Dues section. If the member has a five-year membership card, make sure the year-ending date is written in on top of the page where you are putting the dues stamps.

When collecting dues, it’s important that members recognize that the dues go to the union, not to you personally. Members who pay their dues by check should make the check out to the IWW or to your branch. If you collect cash, it’s best to have a separate envelope – pocketing the dues may be more convenient (and, of course, it all balances out in the end when you turn in your report), but it can leave a bad impression. Most delegates use a zipper folder or pouch for all their supplies and monies collected.

If you are a branch delegate, all monies including cash can be turned in to your branch secretary along with your report, as they will deposit and make a payment for remittance to GHQ with all the funds collected by all branch delegates for the month.

If you are an At-Large delegate, you can mail a check, money order, or submit a PayPal payment for the entire amount collected as shown on your report. Never mail cash to GHQ.

Never give a member loose stamps.
Occasionally a member will forget or temporarily misplace their card and will want to pay dues to keep a record of continuous good standing. Accept the dues payment, record the transaction, vouch the stamps and set them aside in an envelope with your supplies. You can put the stamps in the member’s card next time they bring it with them.

How to fill out a delegate’s report

The IWW Constitution requires delegates to report at least once a month to the General Headquarters (GHQ) or Branch Secretary. This is whether or not you have collected any money. A brief note is fine in the latter case. A delegate who has collected money should give the GST or Branch Secretary a delegate’s report listing all initiations, dues, assessments and other money collected, together with signed membership applications and money due on the report.

The delegate report form can be found at: iww.org/headquarters on the left hand side under “Delegates”. You can download and print to fill in by hand, or fill it in with a PDF program and email to your branch secretary or GHQ. If you don’t have a program that will allow you to fill it in, using a free online PDF editor such as “PDF Escape” will work too. If you are filling by hand, make sure your writing is clear and legible!

Record Side: Make a complete line entry for each transaction at the same time you put stamps in a member’s card.

Fill in their industrial union number, name, member number and name, the first month paid and last month paid this time, and record whatever money is given to you in the appropriate columns.

The section all the way to the right of the form, “Previous Dues Paid” must be fully filled out.

This is necessary in case a previous delegate’s report has been lost or not sent in properly. Record the information from the dues stamp in the card from the previous transaction. With that information, GHQ or the Branch Secretary can track down a missing report and give the member proper credit. If this is not filled out, a members standing might be mis-recorded or GHQ may be unable to process their dues payment.

Summary of Receipts:

When you are ready to turn in your report, transfer totals for initiations, dues and assessments from the record side to the proper categories. In addition, literature and publications can be paid for on the report.

Organizational Report: Write about activities you have been involved in since your last report and request any supplies you might need. Your report will be printed in the General Organization Bulletin (GOB) so do not include sensitive information about campaigns. The GOB is an internal newletter, but it is still not a good idea to include names of workplace campaigns that are not public.

Change of Address: Always ask if they have any information to update. Try and update member’s addresses as quickly as possible. This is the place to do it. Members can also login to RedCard (redcard.iww.org) and change their address and other contact info.
Other items you need to report

Donations and Assessments: Donations may be made in cash or by buying assessment stamps. Treat the assessment stamps as you would a dues payment, only paste them in the “Assessments” side of the card. Donations can be listed on the back of each member’s card.

Assessments are an important source of funds for the union. Encourage members to buy them. If you don’t have any assessment stamps, contact General Headquarters or your Branch Secretary for some. Some assessment stamps are especially for the organizing fund, or the Industrial Worker press fund. There are special columns for these stamps on your delegate report form. There are also funds you may not have stamps for, but you can still collect assessments, just make sure you make a note of what it is for.

Many of these can be found on the GHQ Balance Sheet printed in every GOB, and more arise as campaigns heat up but some of the more popular ones are:

- ISC Organizing Fund
- Sato Fund
- Junior Wobblies
- IWOC
- Solidaridad

Continuation Cards: When a member’s card is full of stamps, the member is issued a five-year continuation card. A continuation card is a booklet card without a number. You will need to fill their old number in. Copy the member’s name, the name of the delegate who initiated them, and the date they signed up from the old card.

Duplicate Cards: Sometimes members need to replace their card because they have lost it. Issue them a new card with their original number. If you have no record of their membership number, take as much information as possible from the member and contact GHQ or your Branch Secretary. The fee for a replacement card is $1, all of which is forwarded to GHQ to cover the cost of the card.

If the card was stolen or taken as evidence by police you can waive the fee.

Address Changes: Your careful listing will ensure that mailings will keep coming to members who move.

Send with Report: Any money you’ve collected, applications for new members, and notices of transfer from one industrial union to another.

Always make a copy of your reports for your own records!
Delegates who are part of a General Membership or Industrial Union Branch forward their delegate reports to their Branch Secretary who consolidates the reports from all branch delegates onto the Branch Secretary’s Monthly Financial Report, and forwards the delegate reports and GA funds to GHQ.

Remember to include all of this!

Other (specify) Branch Fund raiser: $57

Merch sales @ event: $125

Total Receipts Reported: $399.50

Amount Due Branch: $272.50

Due To GHQ:
- Amount Due to GHQ: $107.00
- Amount Due GHQ for OC:
- Amount IW and Other to GHQ:

Remittance Enclosed: $107.00

The form is fairly simple. There is a column for each delegate, in which to record the dues, assessments and initiations collected. On the right you total the receipts received, and figure out the amount due to General Administration (GA) and the amount retained by your branch.

IWW Delegate Manual  Page 12
Dues and initiations are split 50-50 between GA and the branch, and assessments and donations either go to the GA (if it is for a project of the GA) or stay with the branch (if it is for a branch campaign or project).

There is no branch share on duplicate cards or Industrial Worker or other unionwide assessments.

On the left you total the number of initiations, dues stamps, assessments etc. sold by all branch delegates during the reporting period. You then total each column in the row titled “Totals,” fill in the remaining blanks for any funds due for literature purchased from the union, your branch’s Industrial Worker bundle, and any other monies due (please specify). Total the receipts, deduct the branch share, and forward the remaining balance with the report. Make sure the remittance enclosed matches what you are sending, unless you have discussed it with GHQ. It is really important to fully complete every part of the report.

Always make a copy of your reports for your own records!

Restocking Supplies

If you need more supplies and are not a member of a branch, fill out a supplies request form (available online at http://www.iww.org/PDF/suppliesform.pdf or from GHQ). If you are a member of a branch, check with your Branch Secretary, who should have supplies for delegates.

Online Forms

Reporting forms and other items for delegates are available on the Headquarters page which you can find at www.iww.org/headquarters on the left side under “Delegates”.

Questions?

You can always contact an experienced delegate in your branch or General Headquarters for help with your reports.

New members may be confused by the many terms they encounter in IWW publications. Here’s a list of commonly used ones:

Fellow Worker (FW): A traditional salutation between IWW members. Fellow Worker is generally understood to be gender-neutral.

General Administration (GA): Consists of the General Executive Board and the General Secretary-Treasurer.

General Convention: The once-yearly union-wide delegate meeting of the IWW, held over the U. S. Labor Day weekend (the weekend before the first Monday of September).

General Executive Board (GEB): Our seven member board elected annually by referendum of the entire membership. Their duties are described in the constitution.

General Headquarters (GHQ): Our administrative offices.

General Membership Branch (GMB): A group of members chartered by the GEB, belonging to any Industrial Unions, who are linked by location. All members of a GMB should live close enough to each other to be able to attend branch meetings.

General Organization Bulletin (GOB): The monthly, internal publication of the General Administration, containing financial reports and reports by the GST, GEB Chair, and various union-wide committees. It also serves as an internal discussion forum. All members are encouraged to contribute.

Industrial Union (IU): One of the founding principles of the IWW was that workers should be organized by industry instead of craft. Because of the union’s size, IUs have seldom had active administrations in recent times; but as we grow efforts are under way to reactivate the IUs as units of organization.

Industrial Union Branch (IUB): A chartered branch of members who are linked by both location and IU.

Industrial Worker (IW): The official publication of the IWW.

Industrial Workers of the World (IWW): Our union. “Industrial” described our form of organization. We strive to organize and unite workers in a given industry, rather than just those of a particular craft or job title.

Manual of Policies and Procedures (MPP): Our internal “how-to guide”; created and amended by the General Executive Board to codify organizational procedures and methods. The current MPP is available on iww.org and from GHQ.

One Big Union (OBU): The concept that all workers must organize together as a class, if we are to ever abolish the wage system and take control of production and distribution from the employing class.

Regional Administration (RA): There is currently a regional administration in Europe and one in North America. See the constitution for more details.

Regional Organizing Committee (ROC): A group coordinating IWW activities in a particular part of the world, for example, CanROC (Canada), GLAMROC (German Language Area Membership).

Wobbly (or Wob): A frequently used nickname for a member of the IWW.

IWW PREAMBLE

The working class and the employing class have nothing in common. There can be no peace so long as hunger and want are found among millions of the working people and the few, who make up the employing class, have all the good things of life.

Between these two classes a struggle must go on until the workers of the world organize as a class, take possession of the means of production, abolish the wage system, and live in harmony with the Earth.

We find that the centering of the management of industries into fewer and fewer hands makes the trade unions unable to cope with the ever growing power of the employing class. The trade unions foster a state of affairs which allows one set of workers to be pitted against another set of workers in the same industry, thereby helping defeat one another in wage wars. Moreover, the trade unions aid the employing class to mislead the workers into the belief that the working class have interests in common with their employers.

These conditions can be changed and the interest of the working class upheld only by an organization formed in such a way that all its members in any one industry, or in all industries if necessary, cease work whenever a strike or lockout is on in any department thereof, thus making an injury to one an injury to all.

Instead of the conservative motto, “A fair day’s wage for a fair day’s work,” we must inscribe on our banner the revolutionary watchword, “Abolition of the wage system.”

It is the historic mission of the working class to do away with capitalism. The army of production must be organized, not only for everyday struggle with capitalists, but also to carry on production when capitalism shall have been overthrown. By organizing industrially we are forming the structure of the new society within the shell of the old.
